Introduction

Under this background, the integration of party building work in universities with ideological and political education(IPE) should deeply understand the requirements of party building work, combine the development of college students' IPE work with the requirements of party building work, and based on the current teaching work, seek a way The road of innovation and breakthrough, attaching importance to the IPE of students, the improvement of moral literacy and the cultivation of patriotism, establishing the correct value concept, awakening the sense of responsibility and ownership of contemporary college students, and correcting self-behavior by changing the internal thoughts and behaviors, Promote moral cultivation and ideological and political awareness, and set a new style for university IPE.

Important Direction of Party Construction in Universities for IPE

The party members in Colleges and universities mainly include the following categories: one is the party and government departments in Colleges and universities represented by the Party committee; the second is the group of party members represented by teachers; the third is the group of party members represented by students [1]. In carrying out party building work in universities, we must pay full attention to the building of the ideological and political awareness of the party member group. Starting from the improvement of the party building work level and guided by the requirements of college party building work, we can achieve the landing of IPE for college students:

Clarify the goals and core of IPE. In the new situation, the integration and innovation of party building work in universities and the IPE of universities should follow the characteristics of party building work, combine the development and actual needs of party building work in universities, clarify the core of party building work, and grasp the ideological construction of college student groups. Starting from political construction, party member management and teaching management. On the one hand, facing the deficiencies in party building and IPE in universities, dare to face up to oneself and dare to innovate, based on the problems existing in the IPE of college students, in-depth search for its essential causes, and using party building work to establish new directions and New requirements; on the other hand, guided by the requirements of the party building work, the right solution, scientific methods to promote the effective implementation of college students' IPE, the role of party members in ideological and political teaching, and improve the overall quality of college students.

Highlight the ideological and political construction of college students. Ideological and political construction is the foundation and focus of party building in universities, and it is an important guide to improve the ideological awareness and style of party members and college students. Universities should make full use of their advantages in party building to promote the effective development of the IPW of college students in a scientific way; use party building as a guide to strengthen the ideological education of college students and deepen the exploration of General Secretary Xi Jinping's strict and strict management of the party The core requirements of the university are to enhance the group 's emotional recognition of the party 's governance and construction work, and to improve the ideological awareness of college students; make full use of the cultural, academic, and scientific research advantages of universities to develop ideological and rectification education activities with clear themes, rich content, and diverse topics In time, the Party 's new instructions and requirements were disseminated in time to lay the foundation for the improvement of college students 'ideological and political awareness [2].

Combining party building work with school management work. As the saying goes, "State-owned law, home and family rules", the constitution of universities is the core guide to ensure the orderly development of ideological and political construction and teaching management in universities. According to the system guidelines, college students 'IPE should fully combine the relevant requirements of party regulations and school regulations, and put forward scientific and executable IPE planning and actions; clarify their responsibility subjects and implementation methods, and clarify the requirements and goals of college students' IPE; Improve the personal literacy, political stance, and ideological level of party members and teaching and research teams in universities, enhance the sense of responsibility, and lay a solid foundation for the effective development of IPE in universities.

Rectification of School Discipline. The fundamental of party building in universities is the education and correction of people's ideology and behavior, which coincides with the direction and goal of IPE for college students. On the innovative integration of party building work in universities and IPE of universities, universities should continue to strengthen the ideological and behavioral education of party members and college students, actively carry out criticism and self-criticism, and keep abreast of the requirements of the Party Central Committee for the strict and strict management of the party. Personal moral bottom line, improve Taoist ideological awareness, strengthen responsibility consciousness, rectify school discipline and discipline, with high standards and strict requirements, realize the role of party building work in the ideological education of college students.

A Strategic Study on the Integration of Party Building and IPE in Universities

Strengthen the control and management of College Students' thinking and behavior. The road of innovative integration of party building work in universities with IPE requires universities to actively carry out IPE and supervision and management of college students in accordance with the goals and requirements of party building work. With the rapid development of socio-economic and living standards, university students gradually open their minds and have strong self-awareness. The external environment has a great influence on the formation of values. The open external environment provides university students with more diverse information and information. At the same time, it also brings more temptation to college students' campus life. Based on this, universities should adopt a serious and responsible attitude in the IPE of college students, strengthen the management and restraint of students, strengthen the correction and cultivation of college students' personal behavior and ideological awareness, improve the moral standards of college students, and strengthen their sense of responsibility. Promote the sense of belonging and self-identity of college students, clarify the direction and goal of IPE of college students with the direction of party building, rectify school discipline and discipline, and improve the role of schools in the supervision and management of IPE of college students.

In actual work, in view of the various types of illegal crimes and violations of the moral bottom line that have occurred in recent years due to the lack of legal and moral constraints, universities should give full attention to the development of a school-style school that is oriented towards the strict management of schools. Rectifying activities, such as rectifying the occurrence of vicious incidents such as campus webcasts, campus online loans, and campus violence; strengthening publicity and popularization of issues such as online fraud; actively conducting lectures on IPE for college students; carrying out propaganda on topics related to party building in universities Activities, through a variety of channels and means, strengthen the restraint and management of college students' ideology and morals and behaviors, so as to implement the party building work's requirements for college students' IPE.

In order to strengthen the construction of spiritual civilization on campus and promote the innovative integration of party construction and IPE of college students, it is necessary to combine the internal and external functions. The internal influence refers to the restriction on the ideological and moral character and behavior of college students under the guidance of the party construction work in colleges and the standard of IPE and school discipline, and the change of the behavior of college students from the inside out. The external influence mainly takes the campus spiritual civilization construction as the guidance, creates the good moral education environment, causes the university student to be the environment influence, the restriction and the change. In the construction of campus spiritual civilization, the school can make full use of the environment of the society, family and campus, refine the connotation of Xi Jinping's new era of socialism with Chinese characteristics and the spirit of the 19th National Congress of the Party. Summarize the inevitability and necessity of party building in universities, use the media such as campus websites, columns, posters, school newspapers, television, radio stations and other media to carry out discussions and sharing sessions, and repeatedly infiltrate and guide the details of student life and learning Restricting college students' ideological and political consciousness and daily behavior habits in an imperceptible manner, and realizing continuous innovation of IPE in universities [3].

Improving the Construction of IPE System in Universities. The traditional education system restricts the IPE of College Students It focuses on the teaching of professional courses for college students, and generally ignores the education and correction of ideological and political awareness and cognition of college students. The existing forms are greater than the content, the theory is greater than the practice, and deviated from reality. Based on the current IPE and teaching system, it is necessary to continuously optimize and improve the IPE model. Combining with General Secretary Xi Jinping's proposal for the development and construction of the party Relying on the clear requirements, relying on the party building work in universities to obtain results and gains, improve the system of IPE in universities, and change the traditional education concept, so as to better serve the efficient integration of party building work and the innovative integration of IPE of college students. On the one hand, college teachers should strengthen a clear understanding of the relationship between party building work and IPE of college students. Schools can organize training, seminars and other forms to implement the national IPW conferences, national education conferences, and school ideological and political theory courses. The important spirit of the teacher's forum, based on which to carry out scientific and innovative teaching design, to promote the effective integration of party building work and IPE of college students from multiple dimensions such as value, philosophy, goals, methods, and evaluations [4]; On the one hand, changing the teacher-led indoctrination teaching mode in the traditional teaching model, taking college students as the main body of IPE, fully driving students' inherent sense of value and responsibility, and putting the good morality and character of shaping and developing college students in The first place in educational work is to lead by example and realize the effective development of college students' moral education.

Carry out effective party building and ideological and political practice activities. For university students, the results of IPE must not only be evaluated through academic studies, but also need to be transformed and implemented with practical results. College students have already possessed sufficient practical ability and the level to independently carry out and participate in activities. At the same time, practical activities are of great significance for raising the awareness of public participation and enhancing the sense of responsibility of college students. Therefore, schools should attach importance to the guidance of party building and IPE in colleges and universities, so as to provide rich social practice opportunities for college students and actively implement the results of IPE. We will enhance the interaction between schools, society, families and students, give play to the initiative of party members and their exemplary role as leaders, and promote individual ideological and political awareness through activities and actions[5].

In the design of practical activities, universities can start with party building, ideological and political building, behavior habit cultivation, social responsibility cultivation, and public participation awareness improvement, and actively cooperate with society and enterprises to provide rich practice for college students[6]. Opportunities, opportunities for college students to show themselves and show their individuality, through the development of activities, give full play to the ability and level of contemporary college students in carrying out independent practical activities, and show the style of contemporary college students to the society.

Conclusion

The integration and innovation path of party building work in universities and the IPE of universities should in-depth analyze our party's program and requirements for party building work, follow its characteristics and laws, combine the requirements of party building work with school management work, and take practical measures to strengthen the ideological consciousness of college students, and to promote the innovative development of IPE of college students with firm confidence, a sound system and scientific means.
